
worker available

Posted by james - 2008/01/31 11:18

hi
I'm available, now and through the coming summer to help out on building projects.

If your using alternative construction methods, such as strawbale, cob, cordwood, green wood, etc...get in touch.

james in bristol

I have looked and looked and looked through manuals this forum and random google searches. Can somebody please explain how you build the different house types. I can easily build worker houses but, I cannot find the option for the more expensive housing.
